Documented finance API routes compared with Angular client methods and

Executive summary

What exists vs what the UI still needs

● Wired in UI ● Client only ● Not in client ● Legacy tables

The FinanceEndpointsService implements nearly all documented routes. Remaining work is UI wiring (table row edit/delete, workflows) and pages that use legacy / tables/* prototypes until dedicated APIs exist.

Key wins (live today)

- Login + session refresh via gateway OAuth
- Create forms on tables: invoices, bills, journals, accounts, audit, EFRIS, banking
- Read paths: dashboard, accounting, sales, expenses, banking, reports, workers
- Top gaps: row PATCH/DELETE, journal post/reverse, inbox APIs, portal auth, approvals workflow
